

the college AMERICA'S SORTING MACHINE track

A documentary series and national engagement campaign

Visit www.thecollegetrack.com for more information about the public television broadcast and community events in your area.

Hosted and narrated by Emmy Award-winning actor Andre Braugher.

The College Track is produced by

Presented by

Distributed by

"The College Track: America's Sorting Machine" documentary series:

In 2004, the 50th anniversary of the Brown v. Board of Education decision, PBS will present the prime-time documentary series The College Track: America's Sorting Machine. The three-part series explores America's commitment to equal access to education today through the struggles and barriers faced by students who hope to be the first in their families to attend college.

Showing on KLRN-TV (Cable Channel 10)

3:00 p.m., Sunday, September 19, 2004

"Getting Ready" reveals the educational "sorting machine" that exists in our public schools– the choices made in the middle-school years that determine which students will be prepared for postsecondary education and which will not and the ultimate cost of this selection.

3:00 p.m., Sunday, September 26, 2004

"Getting In" considers what happens in high school to prepare students to meet college acceptance requirements and succeed in a postsecondary education program.

3:00 p.m., Sunday, October 3, 2004

"Getting Through" examines which students are prepared to succeed at college and why so many students who get into college fail to complete their degrees.

Printing Sponsored By:

San Antonio Community Connections Campaign coordinated by the San Antonio Education Partnership.